Stepping away: Cathal Cregg

Longford appoint rookie boss O'Loughlin

LONGFORD'S wait for a new manager ended last night with the appointment of rookie boss Billy O'Loughlin.

Five months after Padraig Davis stepped down, the Longford executive ratified Laois native O'Loughlin, who takes up his first senior position just one week prior to the resumption of inter-county training.

O'Loughlin previously took charge of the Laois Under 20 team that reached the 2019 Leinster final, losing to Dublin.

By MICHEAL CLIFFORD

But this will be a considerable step-up as he seeks to resurrect a Longford side who took a 20-point mauling by Meath in this year's Leinster Championship, which immediately prompted Davis' departure.

The new manager's first game at inter-county senior level will see him go head-to-head with the most experienced boss in the game, Mickey Harte, when Longford take on Louth in the pre-season O 'Byrne Cup on January 8.

Meanwhile, one of Mayo's top officials has claimed that the tackle on Eoghan McLaughlin in the All-Ireland semi-final was an argument for the introduction of VAR in GAA.

John Small's heavy hit on McLaughlin saw the Westport player miss out on the All-Ireland final after undergoing surgey on his jaw, and Mayo secretary Dermot Butler has labelled the decision not to send the Dublin player off as 'baffling'.

'If ever there was an argument for VAR' to be introduced into the GAA then this was it,' said Butler.

Elsewhere, Roscommon's Cathal Cregg has confirmed his retirement from inter-county football.
