RE: Ontower Ireland Ltd planning application for a new replacement telecommunications structure located at: Sureweld, Fonthill, Lucan.
Our Ref: DN 2158

Dear Evelyn,

eir Mobile (formerly Meteor Mobile Communications) understand that Indigo, on behalf of Ontower Ireland Limited, are applying for planning permission for a new telecommunications structure located at Sureweld, Fonthill, Lucan, to replace the existing monopole. Eir Mobile will locate equipment onto this structure, to provide improved mobile and wireless broadband coverage to the busy stretch of the N4 and the surrounding area.

The operation of mobile and wireless broadband services by eir Mobile, as a wholly owned subsidiary of eir plc., requires eir Mobile to ensure telecommunications sites are maintained in order to meet licence obligations for coverage. In line with the Government & South Dublin County Council's Telecommunications guidelines and policies, eir Mobile prefer to site share on existing structures subject to them providing sufficient antenna height and rigidity for effective radio signal propagation, thereby eliminating the need for an independent site. This site would provide much improved coverage to our customers living, visiting and travelling in the area. It will also enable enhanced services for eir Mobile customers as part of the commitment to facilitate all communities' access to excellent telecommunication services.

I trust that this letter is of assistance in this planning application, but please feel free to contact me should you require any more information or clarification.

Yours sincerely
