

Ready: McIlroy relishing Players Championship

Rory: PGA must be open on Mickelson fate

From Back Page
for their actions.' Asked how hurtful it was to be accused by one of his top players of 'obnoxious greed' and Mickelson owning up to being a prime mover in the proposed Saudi Golf League, Monahan was clearly upset by the lefty's remarks.

'That's not how I operate and people who know me know that is not how I operate,' he said. Rory McIlroy, who is a member of the PGA Tour's policy board, urged Monahan to come clean if Mickelson is suspended. 'Jay does a fantastic job in so many areas but we do need more transparency on things like bans.' Co Down native McIlroy will be bidding this week for his second win at the Players Championship and he feels his game is in good shape. At the Arnold Palmer Invitational last week McIlroy was right in the hunt heading into the weekend but dropped out of contention with two 76s, while a year ago he missed the cut here after an opening-round 79. 'I didn't know it was 79 last year. I tried to forget about it, but thanks for reminding me,' he joked. 'I came in here last year not very confident in my golf game. I didn't feel like I was playing well. I sort of

had a two-way miss going. I'm a lot more comfortable with my game coming in this year. 'I don't want to tempt fate, but there would have to be a drastic change in my game from now until Thursday for me to go and shoot 79 in the first round, but it is golf and you never know,' added McIlroy.
