ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Dear Sir/Madam,

Please find enclosed the following drawings in the response to the further information request for planning reference SD22B/0055 David Hickey, Highdownhill, Newcastle, County Dublin.

6 copies of DH001.A - Site Layout Plan
6 copies of DH101 - Contiguous Elevation / Section BB
6 copies of DH201 - Rain Garden Design Calcs

There are no foul or surface water public networks in the area of the site. All existing and proposed drainage is shown on DH001.A. No new hardstandings are proposed. The extended driveway will be permeable. The shed surface water will be drained via a rain garden designed in accordance with SuDS. See DH201.

With respect to the southern site entrance. This has been used as a pedestrian entrance since the house was originally constructed. The applicant does not intend to use this as vehicular entrance and instead proposes to extend the drive-way from the western entrance for access to the new shed.

Yours Sincerely,
