

WINNER FOR HENRY Sacred can go out on a high

HENRY DE BROMHEAD registered his first winner since the tragic death of his son, Jack, when Ingenious Stroke won the Irish Stallion Farms EBF Beginners' Chase at Downpatrick. The 13-year-old died following a fall in a pony race at Glenbeigh Festival in Co Kerry on September 3. Ingenious Stroke was sent off the 100-30 joint-favourite in the hands of stable rider Rachael

Blackmore. The six-year-old came home a length winner over Final Orders, and an emotional Blackmore acknowledged the ongoing sense of loss. Blackmore said: 'He did it really well, he ran around a bit at the end. It is great to get but obviously winners don't feel the same now. We are all thinking of Jack.'

SACRED relished the drop to Listed class for the Dubai Duty Free Cup Stakes at Newbury, winning by six and a half lengths. William Haggas' filly was only beaten a length first time out this season in the Platinum Jubilee at Royal Ascot. Connections have aimed high with her since but, while she was beaten less than two lengths in the Lennox Stakes at Goodwood, she was marginally disappointing last time out in the City of York Stakes. Her team had suggested before the race that if she failed to sparkle she could be retired but, on the back of an impressive performance, she has earned another chance to go out on a high in Group race company. Tom Marquand was sat motionless a furlong out as he tracked Saleymm but once Sacred was in the clear, the response was immediate. The daughter of Exceed And Excel bounded clear under just hands and heels riding as the 10-1 favourite. 'She loves Newbury.

Maybe we should get the Challenge Stakes (Newmarket) moved here! She's a funny old bird, very talented but not the easiest,' said Maureen Haggas, wife and assistant to the trainer. 'I think after her good run at Ascot, they got too strung out at York and she lost interest.' Tom Clover may have a 1000 Guineas contender on his hands as unbeaten Crystallium won the Dubai Duty Free Full Of Surprises British EBF Fillies' Conditions Stakes at Newbury.

Denotes National Hunt Flat Form. Live on RACING TV.

The top five are the ones to focus on here, with preference for NIKINI. The Willie Mullins-trained five-year-old has some strong bumper form to her name and was a comfortable winner on her debut over fences at Killybegan last month. Patrick Mullins was aboard the Sea Moon-bay at the Co Westmeath venue and he later reported: 'It looks to me that jumping interests her more'. The hat-trick seeking Shannon Glory appears the main danger. An easy winner at Killybegan in July, she progressed nicely to beat some smart rivals at Bellefleur last month. Blankefontaine is by far the most experienced runner in the line-up and she can't be dismissed with Gary Noonan taking a valuable 7lb of Hollymount has won three times from 10 starts and is another leading contender.

- A good quality contest to start off the Listed Harvest Festival, with some interesting hunting debutants in the line-up. The winner of the Apprentice Derby at the Curragh in May, Common Practice, who is rated 83 on the level, is sure to have plenty of supporters. French import Point Ausumer was also successful on the Flat in May, winning at Vichy on his second start. A half-brother to dual Listed winner La Hoguelette, he starts off for Gavin Cromwell now. Tonn Sharp is related to plenty of winners and is another to keep an eye on. For a selection, AGHABOY gets the nod. Narrowly beaten at Killybegan, he made the breakthrough at Bellefleur and looks capable of further progress. The hat-trick seeking The Insider is an obvious danger and is likely to go close with Davy Russell aboard.

- An ultra-competitive affair, with the hat-trick seeking ROYAL EAGLE appearing the safest option. She was a comfortable winner of the festival opener at Galway in July and followed up on the level at Tramore. The four-year-old is clearly progressing and her opening mark of 100 could prove to be rather lenient. There is another six last time out winners in the line-up. Killoughteen and Sean Says were both successful at Wexford earlier this month, with the former now making her debut in handicap company. She will again be ridden by her part-owner Anthony Bustin, who claims a valuable 7lb. Highland Penny came home 10 lengths to the good at Tramore in June and he is sure to have plenty of supporters, while Killybegan winner Shannon Gray (fourth 12 months ago) is one of two Eoin McCarthy representatives set to take part.

- WHAT PATH seemed to improve when winning smart Galway bumper in July. That form has been boosted by the runner-up, third and fourth-placed horses all winning subsequently and while he lacks previous jumping experience, is a big staying type who tackles a manageable maiden Run For Pat, rated 109, is an eight-race maiden over hurdles and while he can't be counted upon to run his usual race, is clearly vulnerable to capable types. Hurdling debutant Battle Of Mirbat has point-to-point experience and ran well in two recent bumpers.

Runner-up in a Grade 3 hurdle last November, he neatly fits into today's race on a hurdles form and while well held on chase debut at Killybegan, the second, third and fourth all won subsequently and he receives weight from his principal rivals. Cornerkova fell at the first fence at Killybegan last month and while she has previously shown good summer form, concedes plenty of weight. Ferdia narrowly sees home and while he disappointed at Sligo on Wednesday, is 12lb better off with Cornerkova, who beat him four lengths at Clonmel in June.

EASY GAME is 12lb wrong with stablemate Kemboy on adjusted ratings but is nonetheless Paul Townend's pick and is the more reliable. True selection was well beaten in the Galway Plate but shouldered top weight and was also hampered, and on previous form is suited by good ground and these middle-distance chases. Kemboy's last 10 runs have been in Grade 1 company and performed well in defeat in many races last season. However, he was well held in the three-mile French Champion Hurdle in May, would ideally prefer a longer distance and also has a small tendency to jump tight, which is a slight concern. Call Me Lyreen is a useful novice chaser but faces a tough task against seasoned campaigners.

- A chance is taken with REBEL PAT, who was in contention when slipping up, taking a crashing fall, at Killybegan in February. That form is nothing special but he held every chance when exiting and his presence at this festival, in the Rebel Fitz colours, is notable. Polo Lounge has been a beaten favourite on all three starts and while useful, is nonetheless vulnerable to pacer rivals, being a big, chasing type. One For Lucy finished a useful second at Tramore last month and has claims, being proven on good ground. Val The Man was reported to have 'never travelled' when pulling up at Roscommon last month but had previously run well at Killybegan.
