PINK SORREL made a pleasing debut in a Punchestown maiden over this trip last month when a close third behind Gozen and Basil Martini and the form of that race could hardly have worked out much better. The winner subsequently beat all bar Lumiere Rock in the Staffordstown Stud Stakes and Basil Martini went one better in another Group 3 race when landing the Weld Park Stakes also at the Curragh. The selection has been taken out a few times because of soft ground and hopefully there will not be too much more rain. Tarawa is the obvious threat after dropping away inside the final furlong when still showing plently of promise on debut over a mile at Cork. High Chieftess needs to step up on her initial effort at Gowran while Bold As Love, Kirikiriroa and Wedding Bouquet are newcomers to note. The latter is a Galileo half-sister to Harzand.

LIVIO MILO made a solid start in a newcomers' race over this trip at the Curragh in August and if building on that run, could prove the one to beat here. The Lope De Vega gelding was only beaten about four lengths behind Continuous who went on to land a Group 3 at Saint-Cloud. The benind Continuous who went on to hand a choup? at saint-cloud. The market should provide a decent guide to the pecking order among the three Ballydoyle runners with Colin Keane an interesting booking on Sloane Ranger, who cost 400,000 at Keeneland last year and is out of a Listed winning daughter of Galileo. Autocrat made a reasonable start when fitted with blinkers for his debut on testing ground at Cork, while Stop And Think is a brother to the useful Lord Of The Lodge. 2021: Nectaris 2 9 7 (C Keane) 9-4 Fav J Harrington drawn (6) 6 ran. Johnny Murtagh has a good line on nursery form and DEVORE is taken to follow up a victory over this trip at the Curragh last month. The selection beat subsequent maiden winner American Sonja with Aurifodina back in fifth. The latter has shown good reserves of stamina when scoring over a mile both before and after that run including here last Saturday. She wont be favoured by this drop back in trip. Delightful, a sister to Minding as well as other classic winners Tuesday and Empress Josephine, is an interesting recruit to handicaps after three solid maiden efforts while Shangrilama was also second in a Thurles maiden last time and appears on the upgrade.

SUNSET SHIRAZ has been a model of consistency and can gain a deserved first Stakes win. The Gavin Cromwell-trained filly had smart, form as a juvenile notably when second to Discoveries in the Moyglare Stud Stakes. She appeared to find 1m2f too far on her belated reappearance before returning to something like her best when second to Toy in the Listed Garnet Stakes over this trip at Naas last Sunday. Glounthaune disappointed in France last time but rates a serious threat on his previous second to Jadoomi over C&D on Irish Champions Weekend, while Neptune Rock showed improved form last time when landing a Listed race at Listowel. Power Under Me is a dual Listed winner over six but tries this trip for the first time.

MISTER MISTER is taken to follow-up on his maiden success. The chestnut colt appears to be progressing with every run and impressed when making the breakthrough at Gowran. Covent Garden was second to the selection at the Co Klikenny venue and he since gave the form a boost by winning at Tipperary. Aidan O'Brien saddles three of the seven declared for this Group 3 prize and in ruth, it's difficult to split them. On jockey bookings. Hippodrome appears to be the first-string but Gulf Of Mexico makes more appeal. Out of Queen Mary winner Anthem Alexander, he got off the mark on his third start at Killarney and is sure to progress further. A full-brother to Luxembourg, Hiawatha is another leading contender with title chasing Billy Lee aboard. Three fillies complete the line-up and they all warrant respect.

Jane Davis and Stan Begley are tied on 13 points apiece, with Darren Harrison just a point behind, going into this, the final leg of the Corinthian Challenge Charity Race Series. Davis teams-up with trusty ally Takarengo who of course claimed the first leg at the Curragh in July, Begley will be aboard three-time winner Clear Quartz, while Harrison takes the ride on Kojin, who disappointed in the 'Petingo' on Champions Weekend. For a selection, WHATCOULDHAVEBEEN gets the nod with Laura Bennett in the saddle. She won on yielding to soft at Tipperary in June and was a fine third behind Takarengo in the aforementioned opening race of this series. Still Standing is a seven-time winner and has definite claims, while Golden Spear and Enkl Flacke are other leading hopes.
