A WEEK on from Constitution Hill's blistering display at Newcastle, Honeysuckle bids to prove she will not let go of her Champion Hurdle crown lightly by securing a record fourth victory in the Bar One Racing Hatton's Grace at Fairyhouse tomorrow.

Nicky Henderson's Constitution Hill is odds-on to take Honeysuckle's crown at Cheltenham in March following his Fighting Fifth romp last Saturday – despite the fact Honeysuckle is already a dual Champion Hurdle winner and yet to meet with defeat in 16 outings.

The Henry de Bromhead-trained eight-year-old is tied with Limestone Lad, Solerina and Apple's Jade as a three-time Hatton's Grace winner and gets the chance to go out on her own under regular partner Rachael Blackmore.

Peter Molony, racing manager to Honeysuckle's owner Kenny

"She only does just enough to win her races"

Alexander, fully respects Constitution Hill's obvious talent, but feels anyone who writes off the great mare does so at their peril.

"Constitution Hill was incredibly impressive last week, but it was no more than I expected – we know he's a very good horse," he said.

"We've just got to do our own thing, head down and, please God, we get to March in one piece. I hope Constitution Hill is there."

"We don't know how good Honeysuckle is because she only ever does just enough to win her races."

"Constitution Hill could be a superstar, but Honeysuckle might still be good enough to beat him."

"She wears the crown, so let's see what happens."

Honeysuckle was brilliant in winning the Hatton's Grace in 2019 and 2021, with a rather more laboured success over Ronald Pump sandwiched in between.

Molony added: "You never quite know what they're going to be like first time out so, fingers crossed, the old ability is still there."

"Henry seems very happy with her. I think by his own admission he left her a bit short for this race a couple of years ago. It was basically the only time in her entire career when she blew up, but in true Honeysuckle fashion she managed to get the job done."

"It would be huge to win a fourth Hatton's Grace. It's a huge race for our family as my father and my uncle rode Hatton's Grace himself, so it's a name we heard a lot at home growing up as children.

The biggest threat to Honeysuckle appears to be Klassical Dream – one of three runners for champion trainer Willie Mullins.

Already a six-time Grade One winner, Klassical Dream was last seen filling the runner-up spot in the French Champion Hurdle at Auteuil in May. Patrick Mullins, assistant to his father, said: "Klassical Dream is a top-class horse and two and a half miles will be no problem to him, but it will be very hard to beat Honeysuckle."

"Constitution Hill looks as exciting as any horse I've ever seen, but he has to go and take the crown off her head. He's obviously got youth on his side and it should be a fascinating match-up."

The Closutton trio is completed by talented mare Echoes In Rain and Saldier, who finished third behind stablemate State Man in the Morgiana Hurdle at Punchestown a fortnight ago.

Three Stripe Life and Mighty Potter give Gordon Elliott a formidable hand in his bid for a seventh victory in the Bar One Racing Drinmore Novice Chase.

Subsequent Gold Cup hero Don Cossack (2013), Delta Work (2018) and Envoi Allen (2020) are among the Cullentra handler's previous winners of the Grade One contest.

Three Stripe Life, whose top-level success was achieved at Aintree in the spring, made a smart start to his chasing career at Naas three weeks ago and will be ridden by Davy Russell.

Mighty Potter, the mount of

"It should be a fascinating match-up"

Jack Kennedy, won Grade One novice hurdles at Leopardstown and Punchestown last term and won comfortably on his fencing bow at Down Royal.

In the day's other Grade One, the Royal Bond Novice Hurdle, owner-trainer Barry Connell is optimistic Marine Nationale can see off Willie Mullins' team.

Mullins has saddled a record nine previous winners of the Grade One contest.

This year he is responsible for half of the eight-strong field, with odds-on favourite Champ Kieley joined by Hercule Du Seuil, Polo Lounge and Ashroe Diamond.

In Marine Nationale, however, Connell has a potential star of his own, with bumper wins at Punchestown and Killarney supplemented by a clear-cut success on his hurdling debut at Punchestown in October.
