

To Whom it may Concern:

I wish to lodge an objection to the proposed planning application. I believe that it will take away the look from that corner and make the road look sloppy with 3 different style houses, the original plan to the left, this in the middle and the house with the side dormer to the right. I think if planning is to be granted it should be done to match that of the side dormer next door and that way it would 'match' and be more aesthetically pleasing to the eye. All the houses were built to look the same and I think it needs to be taken into consideration when granting permission or not, what precedence has already been set next door for the side dormer.
