Re: Relocation of Eircom Plant @ Clonbrone, Lucan Newlands Road

With reference to your request on 7th March 2023, as you can appreciate the Eircom plant to which you refer is Eircom property, which has been positioned pursuant to lawful authority.

Eircom has no plans to relocate this plant at the current time, as it is perfectly functional, and is serving its purpose in providing service to its customers. Relocation of the plant can only be done at a cost, which in certain instances can be substantial. In the event that you require the plant to be relocated to facilitate your proposed development, you, as the requesting party will be required to bear the cost involved before the relocation works commences.

In the circumstances, following a site inspection by our engineer, Eircom could facilitate your request to relocate our plant but only on condition that you pay the cost of the relocation prior to work commencing and that it is feasible to relocate the plant.

I trust this is to your satisfaction.

Regards,

Rob Foley
